Prioritizing Super Spenders: Coverage and Care for High-Need Patients

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES
(In order of appearance on the program)

KATHRYN SANTORO, MA is Director of Policy and Development at the National Institute for Health Care Management (NIHCM) Foundation, a nonprofit and nonpartisan organization whose mission is to promote improvements in health care access, management and quality. Ms. Santoro currently leads NIHCM’s Driving Value webinar series and directs the organization’s maternal and child health programs. Under these projects, she conducts research and analysis on health policy issues in support of improving practices used by health care decision makers and industry leaders.

Ms. Santoro joined NIHCM Foundation in September 2004 after receiving her Master’s degree in Public Policy from the George Washington University with a focus on women’s health policy. Ms. Santoro previously served as a Project Consultant for Women in Government where she was responsible for compiling a state-by-state report card on access to cervical cancer screening. While pursuing her Master’s degree, Ms. Santoro was a Communications Assistant for a health policy consulting firm and a Graduate Intern for a Washington, D.C. based women’s and children’s policy research organization. Ms. Santoro attended Villanova University in Villanova, PA and graduated with a BA cum laude in Political Science.

MICHAEL McGINNIS, MD, MA, MPP is the Senior Scholar at the National Academy of Medicine (NAM), the NAM Leonard D. Schaeffer Executive Officer, and the Executive Director of the NAM Leadership Consortium for a Value & Science-Driven Health System. Dr. McGinnis is also an elected Member of the NAM. He held continuous appointment through the Carter, Reagan, Bush and Clinton Administrations at the Department of Health and Human Services (previously Department of Health, Education, and Welfare) with policy responsibility for disease prevention and health promotion. He received completed his BA at the University of Berkeley, California, received his MA and MD at UCLA, and an MPP at Harvard’s Kennedy School of Government.
JEAN MALOUIN, MD has been the Medical Director for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Value Partnerships since 2012, and is responsible for the Patient-Centered Medical Home, Organized Systems of Care and other BCBSM initiatives. Dr. Malouin is also on the Family Medicine faculty at the University of Michigan where she maintains a clinical practice. From 2012-2016 she served as Medical Director and Co-Project Lead for the Michigan Primary Care Transformation Project, a state-wide multi-payer PMCH demonstration project involving almost 400 Michigan PCMH-designated practices. Dr. Malouin received her medical degree and Master of Public Health degree in Health Management and Policy from the University of Michigan.

ADAM BOEHLER is the CEO of Landmark. Prior to founding Landmark, Adam was the founder and CEO of aLabs. aLabs was incorporated in March of 2011 and is currently the largest provider of comprehensive laboratory management services to health systems. The company manages over 3,000 employees across 25 laboratories. aLabs has established anchor partner relationships with Sharp HealthCare in San Diego, Advocate HealthCare in Illinois and Aurora HealthCare in Wisconsin.

Prior to taking his role at aLabs, Mr. Boehler was a principal at Accretive, LLC, where he was responsible for healthcare investments. Previously, he served as Executive Vice President and General Manager at MedeFinance, a leading provider of healthcare analytics, where he was responsible for all hospital sales, marketing and product development. Before MedeFinance, Mr. Boehler was an associate at Battery Ventures, a leading technology venture capital firm with $2 billion under management. Mr. Boehler graduated magna cum laude from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

JOHN ESPINOLA, MD, MPH is the Executive Vice President of Healthcare Services. He provides leadership for Premera’s healthcare strategy, including provider network development, oversight of clinical programs and healthcare quality, and collaboration with healthcare providers to develop innovative solutions to meet the needs of Premera’s customers. He was formerly Vice President of Quality, Medical Management, and Provider Engagement at Premera Blue Cross.

Dr. Espinola joined Premera in 2010. Prior to that, he served in various roles at other health plans. He also practiced geriatric medicine in the Seattle metro area in a variety of settings. Dr. Espinola is board certified in geriatrics and internal medicine. He trained in internal medicine at Scripps Clinic in San Diego and in geriatrics at Harborview Medical Center in Seattle. He has a Doctor of Medicine and Masters of Public Health degrees from Tufts University School of Medicine, a master’s in business administration from the University of Washington, and a bachelor’s degree from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts.
CLARE WROBEL is the Director of Payment Reform Models for the Health Care Transformation Task Force. Prior to joining the Task Force, she was the Director of Population Health Solutions at Myers and Stauffer LC. In this position, she assisted clients in the implementation of alternative payment models and interpretation of federal policies such as MACRA, state innovation waivers, and Medicaid health IT funding to support health care transformation. She previously held various positions at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services with the Office of the National Coordinator for Health Information Technology, Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, and most recently with the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation where she led the State Innovation Models Initiative.

Ms. Wrobel has a bachelor's degree in psychology and a master's degree in health services administration from the University of Michigan, and currently holds an adjunct faculty appointment at the George Washington University Milken School of Public Health.