PRESENTER BIOGRAPHIES
(In order of appearance on the program)

KATHRYN SANTORO, MA, is a Program Manager at NIHCM Foundation. Ms. Santoro manages two grants with the Health Resources and Services Administration’s Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB), where she is responsible for research and policy analysis of issues related to maternal, child and adolescent health. Ms. Santoro joined NIHCM Foundation in September 2004 after receiving her master's degree in Public Policy from the George Washington University with a focus on women’s health policy. Ms. Santoro also previously worked for Women in Government/Digene Corporation as a Project Consultant compiling a state-by-state report card on access to cervical cancer screening. While pursuing her master’s degree, Ms. Santoro worked for a health policy consulting firm as a Communications Assistant and as a Graduate Intern for a Washington, D.C. based women’s and children’s policy research organization. Ms. Santoro attended Villanova University in Villanova, PA and graduated with a BA cum laude in Political Science in 2002.

ALAN R. FLEISCHMAN, MD, is Senior Vice President and Medical Director of the March of Dimes Foundation, and Clinical Professor of Pediatrics and Clinical Professor of Epidemiology and Population Health at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York. In the academic area, he has published and lectured extensively in many areas of perinatal medicine and has been a pioneer in the field of bioethics, emphasizing the rights of individual patients and the responsibilities of health care professionals and organizations. This work has resulted in over one hundred fifty publications in peer reviewed journals and book chapters, including a book edited with Robert Cassidy, entitled "Pediatric Ethics--From Principles to Practice," published by Harwood Press. Dr. Fleischman is a past Senior Vice President of the New York Academy of Medicine and has served as an advisor or member of a wide range of ethics and children’s health committees including as Chair of the Federal Advisory Committee to the National Children’s Study at the National Institutes of Health (NIH), and was a founding member and is currently a member of the New York State Governor’s Task Force on Life and the Law.

R. RIMA JOLIVET, CNM, MSN, MPH, is Associate Director of Programs at Childbirth Connection, and Project Director for the Childbirth Connection 90th Anniversary Symposium, Transforming Maternity Care: A High Value Proposition. She provides direction and technical support in the development, implementation and evaluation of Childbirth Connection’s long-term national program to promote evidence-based maternity care through research, education, public policy and advocacy. She is on the teaching faculty of the Centering Healthcare Institute and is also an adjunct member of the OB/GYN faculty at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences. Ms. Jolivet worked as a childbirth educator, a doula and interpreter for non-English speaking women in labor, and as a lactation consultant before becoming a midwife. Formerly, she was Senior Technical Advisor in the Department of Professional Services at the American College of Nurse-Midwives, where she specialized in the areas of quality improvement and patient safety.

PAUL MEYER, JD, is Co-founder, Chairman and President of Voxiva. Before founding the company, he was Founder and Chairman of IPKO, the first and largest Internet service provider in Kosovo. Started in the weeks after the 1999 war, IPKO was hailed by the U.N. Secretary General as "a model for future humanitarian emergencies." Mr. Meyer has been a Senior Fellow at Markle Foundation, has worked for the International Rescue Committee where he launched a number of projects using technology to reunify separated refugee children and families in West Africa and the Balkans, and was Chief Operating Officer of the Endeavor Initiative. From 1993 to 1995, he served as one of President Clinton's White House speechwriters and worked on President Clinton's 1992 campaign. He has a law degree from Yale Law School and studied Politics, Philosophy and Economics at Oxford University. He was recently named a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum in Davos. MIT's Technology Review Magazine named him one of 100 technology pioneers and their 2003 Humanitarian of the Year. He was named a Henry Crown Fellow by the Aspen Institute and is a member of the U.S. Council on Competitiveness and a Term Member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

TINA D. GROAT, MD, MBA, FACOG, is the National Medical Director of the Women’s Health Line of Service for UnitedHealthcare. She received her medical degree from Harvard Medical School in 1997 and her MBA from the University of Michigan in 2008. Dr. Groat completed her residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Duke University Medical Center where she served as Assistant Administrative Chief Resident. After residency she worked as an Assistant Professor of Clinical Ob/Gyn at Indiana University School of Medicine from 2001-2005 and then a Clinical Instructor at the University of Michigan Obstetrics and Gynecology Department from 2005-2006. Her current position at UnitedHealthcare involves promoting quality and affordability to both patients and physicians.

CALVIN ANDERSON is Vice President of Federal and Community Relations for BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee and is the Executive Director of BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee Health Foundation and Community Trust. Previously, he served as a senior staff member to U.S. Sen. Jim Sasser of Tennessee. On the civic front, Mr. Anderson has served on the board of directors in a number of business and civic organizations. On a state level, Mr. Anderson was a member of the State Election Commission from 1995 until May of 2007. He served on the State Small Group Health Insurance Advisory Committee for the Department of Insurance, in 1998 and the State TennCare Advisory Committee in 2002. In 2006 and 2007, he sat on the board of directors of Tennessee Tomorrow. On a national level, he represents BlueCross as a congressional relations coordinator with the Blue Cross Blue Shield Association, and on America’s Health Insurance Plans (AHIP) Policy Committee and Federal Government Relations Group. He also serves on the Health Industry Council for District Eight of the Federal Reserve.